Taylor Young Investment Management wins Lipper Award

- Fund Manager Nick Rundle upgraded to AA in Citywire fund ratings

Taylor Young Investment Management (Taylor Young) is delighted to announce that in March 2008 it received the prestigious Lipper UK Equity - Small Investment House Group Award for three year performance.

The award is the highest Lipper Leader Consistent Return rating and is indicative of Taylor Young's excellent performance relative to its competitors.

It is recognition that the Taylor Young Funds in the UK Equity category have delivered consistently strong risk-adjusted performance over the past three years. These funds are the CF Taylor Young Growth Fund, the CF Taylor Young Growth & Income Fund and the CF Taylor Young Equity Income Fund.

In addition, Nick Rundle, Associate Director at Taylor Young, has been upgraded to AA in the latest Citywire Fund Manager ratings. Nick has been a Fund Manager at Taylor Young since 2004 and currently manages the CF Taylor Young Equity Income Fund and the CF Taylor Young Growth Fund.

Citywire's ratings are determined by exceptional fund performance and look at a number of factors affecting an individual's track record. The ratings compare performance against a benchmark over three years and reflect how much risk the fund manager has taken to generate this performance.

Taylor Young was also nominated for the third year running for a Private Asset Management Award by the PAM (Private Asset Manager) Awards judging panel, in the category: Investment Performance - Growth.

Peter Thomson, Chief Executive and Chief Investment Officer at Taylor Young, commented:

"Taylor Young is thrilled to receive these accolades which are a reflection of our commitment to provide the highest standards of portfolio management.

We have an innovative thematic approach to investment, which extends to private client investment management and institutional fund management and this, along with our dedication to providing the highest levels of customer service, sets us apart in the market.”
